Product Description

Please note: Due to unprecedented climatic conditions, this Australian native spice will be unavailable for sometime. Our apologies for any inconvenience caused by this situation that is beyond our control.

Australian native bush tomatoes "akudjura" have a caramel-like taste. (SML PKT)

Other Common Names: Akudjura (when ground to a powder), Desert Raisin, Akatyerre, Kutjera,

Botanical Name: (Solanum centrale)

Produce of Australia packed in Australia.

Description & Use: These Australian native berries are pale tan to dark brown and have a fruity, caramel-like flavour and slightly tangy acidity. Bush tomato flavours stews and casseroles while the akudjura powder blends well with coriander seed and wattleseed to flavour meats from chicken and beef to full-flavoured fish such as salmon and tuna.
